

The Greenfield Historical Society will conduct a short ceremony on the town square, in Greenfield, at the World War I Memorial on Sunday, November 11, 2018 at 11:00am.

They will be participating in the National Bell Tolling to commemorate the centennial of the armistice ending World War. I. The bell will toll 21 times to honor those who served. Other communities, across the country, will gather at this time to ring bells also.

Members of Greenfield are invited to join the Historical Society on the square to participate or people may remain at home and ring a bell from their front porch.

This is in conjunction with the World War I Centennial Commission Bells of Peace event.
